Dr. Thomas Wynne (July 20, 1627 -March 17, 1691) was born in Ysceifiog Parish Flintshire Wales. The claim made by some that he was the personal physician of William Penn is in error. He was a chirurgeon, a surgeon. Wynne describes his training as a chirurgeon and the circumstances which led to his embracing the Quaker religion in a religious tract entitled An AntiChristian Conspiracy Detected Detected, link included on this website in Table of Contents. Wynne was an original settler to Pennsylvania, having emigrated with Wiliam Penn in 1681. See Wynne's Biography for additional information.
